A second attempt at burglarizing the Wolcott depot was made last Thursday night. A number of tickets reading to St. Johnsbury were taken and some blank tickets on the Maine Central, C. ### LYDIA E. JOSLYN

Morrisville's Oldest Resident Passed Away Last Saturday Morning.

In the death of Lydia E. Joslyn, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. S. Robinson, on Congress street, last Saturday morning, Morrisville loses one of her oldest residents, and in her demise a beautiful life passed on to be mourned and missed by numerous friends who had been given the pleasure of her acquaintance and friendship a part, at least, of the many years of her residence in Morrisville. Mrs. Joslyn was 92 years, seven months and seven days of age and had resided in Morrisville for the past forty years. She had been in delicate health for several years and confined to her room for about a year.

Lydia Elizabeth Leach, daughter of Robert and Abigail (Dow) Leach was born in Waitsfield, June 23, 1822. She was united in marriage to Cyron Joslyn April 26, 1842. They resided in Waitsfield for 24 years, moving from there to Randolph where they resided for eight years and came to Morrisville 40 years ago last month. Mr. Joslyn died Jan. 27, 1884, and since then Mrs. Joslyn has made her home with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Robinson. Five children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Joslyn, three of whom survive: Edward O. Joslyn of Springfield, Ill.; Fred H. Joslyn of Randolph and Gertrude L. Robinson of Morrisville. Her eldest son, Edgar A. Joslyn, of Boston, died Jan. 6, 1893, and Cyron Robert in childhood. Mrs. Joslyn united with the Congregational church in Waitsfield when 18 years of age, and with the First Congregational church of Morrisville 40 years ago. She was an active member of the United Workers, and for many years president of the society, and was deeply interested in all church work, being a regular attendant at church and Sunday School until 80 years of age. She always put the church first in her work outside her family cares and always seemed to take pleasure in service for others. For many years she was the teacher of a class of girls in the Sunday School.

Funeral services were held from the home on Monday afternoon, Rev. W. E. Baker of the Congregational church officiating, assisted by Rev. Dr. V. M. Hardy, who paid eloquent tribute to the life of the deceased. At the request of Mrs. Robinson, Mr. Robinson had charge of the services, and the bearers were: O. M. Waterman, A. L. Cheney, Dr. J. A. Robinson and C. D. Howe. Interment was in the Joslyn family lot in Pleasant View cemetery.

The floral offerings from friends and relatives were numerous, including a beautiful spray of white roses and carnations from the Congregational society.

Those from out of town to attend the funeral were, Miss Leonora Joslyn of Boston, a granddaughter, who has been here since Christmas; a son, Fred O. Joslyn of Randolph, and Mrs. E. O. Walter of Burlington and Miss Lucile Robinson of Barre.

Real Winter Weather

Last Friday and Saturday were the coldest days of the season. The thermometers registered around 30 degrees below in different sections, early Friday morning and between eight and nine o'clock in the forenoon Friday the mercury hovered around 25 below in front of the Cheney drug store. There were very few frozen water pipes reported owing to the fact that there was not a protracted spell of extremely cold weather.

A Business Stimulator

The snow fall of the past few days, added to the little already on the ground, makes the hearts of the lumbermen and farmers glad and will stimulate business generally. Some extra good green four-foot and stove wood is being drawn into town at present, the prevailing price for stove wood being $1.75 per cord.

After New Members

The Membership Committee of the Pleasant View Cemetery Association has begun the work of securing members and the work would be facilitated if those wishing to join would leave their names and dues, if convenient, at Campbell's jewelry store or at the library.

Masonic District Meeting

About 150 Masons were present at the annual meeting of the 13th Masonic District, in Morrisville last Wednesday and the affair was reported to have been one of the most enjoyable held in Masonic circles in Morrisville for some time.

Large delegations came on the morning trains and from Stowe, many coming from the R. A. M. meeting, which was held at Hardwick the day before.

The lodge was opened in the afternoon by Mt. Vernon Lodge, No. 8, and the first degree was worked in an impressive manner by Mineral Lodge, No. 93, of Wolcott, the work being followed by a review of the work by Grand Lodge officers. A banquet was held at six o'clock and the company was called from refreshments to labor at 7:30, when Mt. Vernon Lodge exemplified the work in the third degree, which was followed by a review of the work by the Grand Lecturer. Remarks were then made by M. W. G. M., Charles H. Darling of Burlington; R. W. G. S., David A. Elliott of White River Junction, and R. W. G. J. W., E. L. Wells of Lyndonville. This part of the program was closed by fitting remarks by Rev. W. E. Baker of Morrisville.

An Entertainment of Merit

Those in charge of securing the entertainment, Trio of the Ithaca Conservatory of Music, to appear at town hall, on Saturday evening, Feb. 13, are making no mistake and the people of Morrisville who enjoy a high-class musical program, including a gentleman reader, of wide reputation, will make no mistake in securing seats for this entertainment. The Huntington (Pa.) Daily News says of their recent appearance there:—

Huntington music lovers had a rare treat last evening, when three talented members of the Ithaca Conservatory of Music gave a delightful entertainment in the 15th Street M. E. church. A large audience was present who listened with interest and appreciation to the excellent program which was rendered. The Ithaca Entertainment Trio is composed of Miss Evelyn Jones, soprano, who possesses a beautiful voice; Miss Edna L. Beebe, a violinist and pianist of rare ability, and Frederick L. Pratt, a clever impersonator. Following the musical program a sketch was given of "The Taming of the Shrew" (in costume) two parts, by Shakespeare.

The entertainment is given here under the auspices of the Epworth League of the M. E. church and should be liberally patronized.
